

THE CELEBRATION BANK

Architects: Venturi, Scott Brown and Associates, Inc.

Location: Celebration, FL

Client: The Disney Development Company

Completion: 1996

VSBA was asked by The Disney Development Company to design a small corner bank building located in Celebration, Florida, Disney's planned new town. The major design challenge was to create a civic presence and scale for a small building. The flush Neo-Classical vocabulary is symbolic -- as it represents a traditional bank; the detailing and massing are appropriate for a modest building.

The big order on the main facade is scaled to relate to the scale of the town as a whole -- with more circumstantial elements occurring within the grand order. The plan is organized to provide a top lit central space and central circulation for a civic building on an irregular site.
